Section II – Program Description

1. Mission, Vision and Philosophy

The College Mission:

To provide high quality, accessible and affordable educational opportunities and services — including university transfer, technical and lifelong learning programs —that promote individual development and improve the overall quality of life in a multicultural community.

The Hospitality Management Department mission is to serve students from diverse backgrounds, seeking to enhance their individual worth and professional potential, by delivering quality educational programs in Culinary Arts, Restaurant Management, and/or Hotel, Destination and Event Management. The department strives to ensure the success of each student and to meet the needs of local industry and the community by offering relevant courses with outstanding delivery.

Vision

Cuyahoga Community College will be recognized as an exemplary teaching and learning community that fosters service and student success. The College will be a valued resource and leader in academic quality, cultural enrichment, and economic development characterized by continuous improvement, innovation, and community responsiveness.

The Hospitality Management Department is a leader in quality educational programs in Northeastern Ohio and will be recognized as such throughout the region.

Values

To successfully fulfill the mission and vision, Cuyahoga Community College is consciously committed to diversity, integrity, academic excellence, and achievement of individual and institutional goals. We are dedicated to building trust, respect, and confidence among our colleagues, students, and the community.

2. Program History

The Hospitality Management Department dates back to 1966 when it was the first program in Ohio to offer a degree in Foodservice Management. The Hospitality Management Department, as part of the Business Division, has offered a variety of degree concentrations throughout the years, all related to the Hospitality Industry and either in response to, or in anticipation of, the needs of students and the community, for a quality hospitality industry workforce. Graduates successfully own and hold management positions in a wide variety of hospitality establishments locally, nationally and internationally. The community industry leadership provides positive support and welcomes students into their businesses and organizations.

General education courses are available to students at any of the four campuses located throughout the county. Hospitality courses are offered at The Hospitality Management Center of Excellence (HMC), the Eastern, West, and Westshore Campuses, and the Brunswick Center. With great foresight, the College opened The Hospitality Management Center at Public Square in 2010 as well as a state-of-the-art facility at the Eastern Campus. The HMC facility includes two instructional kitchens with small group stations, a beautiful Northern Hasserot demonstration kitchen, and a front door to Cleveland's burgeoning hospitality industry. The Eastern Campus facility includes an instructional kitchen, a beautiful demonstration kitchen and a well-appointed fifty-seat dining room. Both facilities offer hi-tech classrooms and offices. In 2017, the College opened another multi-million dollar 50-seat ala carte restaurant to meet student demand. The new restaurant facility, Alere, is located in the Jerry Sue Thornton Center. The facilities provide students with small class sizes, maximum individualized attention, close interaction with the well-qualified, industry-experienced faculty and staff, the availability of the latest technologies and a front door open to the hospitality industry of Cleveland.

3. Core Values

Section III – Program Expectations

1. Professional Standards

Semester Course Schedule Information

All students registered for one or more courses in the Hospitality Management Program must complete the hospitality course section of an Academic Plan with their assigned hospitality faculty mentor by the end of the first eight weeks of the semester. Whether you are a returning student or just started taking courses in the Hospitality Management Program, you are required to complete this form with your hospitality faculty mentor. It is your responsibility to make an appointment with your hospitality faculty mentor. Once a student has completed the hospitality course selection with their hospitality faculty mentor, the student must then make an appointment to see a counselor who will help them choose their required general education courses, complete an academic plan and lock it in. Once the plan is locked into the system by a counselor, the student should request a printed copy of their plan. If applicable, a student must submit that to their HOSP 1010 instructor to be included in their grade. Plan development supports successful and timely completion of goals. Hospitality faculty mentors will make a copy of the plan for the student. The faculty mentor keeps one copy of the student's academic plan and the student keeps a copy. It is very important to note that beginning fall 2019 financial aid may only be applied to classes that are required of a student's declared major.

In order to complete your degree or certificate in a timely manner, it is important that you follow the plan designed for you with the help of your hospitality faculty mentor. If for any reason, you are not able to follow the plan, you should immediately make an appointment with your faculty mentor to revise the plan.

Please note the following so you are prepared:

- Not all courses are offered in each semester
- Some courses have a limit to the number of students that may enroll in the course
- Some course offerings are only in the daytime

- Some course offerings are only in the evening or on Saturday due to lab space
- Course prerequisite(s) are required for most courses. If you do not take courses in the suggested order or the designated semester, it may delay completion of the program.

Borrowing Equipment

The program does not loan equipment nor is equipment allowed to leave the program.

Cell phones

Cell phone use is restricted to taking photos of food/plate presentations in the Hospitality kitchens and dining rooms. Hands must be washed after cell phone use and before returning to food handling. No cell phones are to be used in classrooms. Please be considerate of others when using your cell phone in common spaces.

Eating During Class-time

Lecture classes Eating is permitted at the discretion of the professor.

Laboratory classes, particularly food preparation, require that you taste products produced. Students must use provided tasting spoons when sampling. Eating and drinking while in the kitchen laboratory is restricted by Ohio Administrative Code 3717-1-02.3 (A) and regulated by food safety and sanitation laws. Only beverages in closed containers may be in laboratory areas.

Ohio Administrative Code 3717-1-02.3 (A) is available at: <http://codes.ohio.gov/oac/3717-1>

Locker Policy

Due to the limited space, and for safety and sanitation concerns, the only items permitted in lab classes will be the actual class paperwork and textbook. All other material such as purses, book bags, coats, etc. must be left in a locked locker or wherever the chef instructor designates.

The Hospitality Management Program has a limited amount of lockers available to its students. Lockers are available by selecting an available locker. Students are required to furnish their own locks and locks must be removed daily.

All locks must be removed from your lockers at the end of the academic day. There are a limited amount of lockers available for all of the classes.

Personal Belongings

Students are required to keep personal belongings in lockers provided by the College. Students must supply their own locks. Purses, book bags, coats, rolling carts, backpacks, etc., remain in lockers.

Textbooks and notebooks are acceptable for lecture but returned to the student's locker during lab periods or at the discretion of the chef instructor. Personal items and locks must be removed from lockers daily.

While there are not enough lockers to accommodate students in all the kitchen lab classes, students must keep their personal belongings in the area of the kitchen designated by the chef instructor.

The only items allowed in the food preparation area are recipes, evaluation sheets, thermometers, and other required tools as outlined by the chef instructor.

Personal Use of Facilities

The laboratory kitchens are not for personal use. There is no cold storage available. Additionally, students may not enter a kitchen during a laboratory class and use the microwave without the express permission of the chef instructor.

Special Events

The Hospitality Management Center often hosts events for College departments, as well as community members and organizations. Therefore, visitors are in the facility all the time. You are expected to be respectful, hospitable, courteous and friendly. Food buffets and coffee stations ARE NOT for student consumption. Guests have paid for those services. Students may not help themselves to food buffets or coffee service.

Student Mentoring

The Hospitality Management Program provides faculty mentoring for all students who list Hospitality Management as their desired major of study. Faculty mentors are assigned to all first-year students. You will receive an email from the Hospitality Management Department to your Tri-C student email address with the name of your faculty mentor and contact information. Faculty mentors are available by appointment to help make the student's journey through the College and the program successful.

I. Ways a faculty mentor assists individual students are:

- Helping the student plan the course selections to meet personal and work demands and schedules
- Helping a student plan ahead for the courses needed to meet the individual's goals in a timely manner
- Providing guidance to help the student make the best use of college and community resources as the student pursues the achievement of personal and professional goals
- Providing direction and information as the student seeks employment opportunities and advancement
- Offering alternatives to help the student make reasonable decisions and find solutions to solve academic problems and situations
- Explaining practicum and management experience procedures so the student will understand the process

II. Assignment of and changing mentors

Faculty mentors are assigned students to mentor through a random selection process. A student may request a mentor change one time during their enrollment in the Hospitality Management Program. Students should direct requests for a different mentor to the program staff. Changes are encouraged when a student finds that he/she is more comfortable with one faculty member as a mentor or have a schedule that allows the student to meet with one faculty member rather than another.

The program staff will e-mail the mentor list to all students by the third week of the semester. If you need assistance before being assigned a mentor, ask the staff.

III. When you meet with your faculty mentor

As with any relationship, it is best to take the time to introduce yourself to your assigned faculty mentor as soon as possible. Often your faculty mentor will be one of your current instructors, but not always. If you do not know your assigned faculty mentor, ask the program staff to introduce you.

IV. Important times to meet with your faculty mentor

Remember to make an appointment to meet with your mentor. Each faculty member posts office hours at the start of the semester. Good time management is important to both you and your faculty mentor. In cases of emergencies or immediate need for assistance, the faculty mentor will try to see you as soon as possible. See the program staff for direction if arrangements for a timely appointment are not possible.

In no case should you disrupt a classroom or lab while faculty is teaching.

Important times to meet with your faculty mentor:

- During the first eight weeks that you are enrolled for the first time in the Hospitality Management Program
- Prior to registering for classes for the upcoming semester
- If you are transferring credits from another college or university
- If you plan on attending a four-year college after graduating from Cuyahoga Community College
- When a situation is causing you frustration and keeping you from doing your best work. Faculty mentors cannot solve all of your problems but they can suggest College and community resources available and solutions that have worked for students in the past.
- Speak to your classroom instructor about concerns specific to course or class, not your mentor. If you are not satisfied with the response, then schedule a meeting with the Associate Dean.
- The procedures for field experience courses are often confusing and require review with your faculty mentor eight weeks before you plan to take the course. Students are required to obtain signatures from work sites before requesting permission to enroll in these courses.

Visitors and Children

No children may be in any classes during lecture or lab under any circumstance. This policy is non-negotiable. Making advanced arrangements with the instructor, may allow adult visitors. Adult classroom visitors must abide by the dress code and other policies of the program and class. If they do not, they may be asked to leave.

2. Code of Ethics

The Hospitality Management Program follows the college-wide Code of Conduct which can be found on the following link: <https://www.tri-c.edu/policies-and-procedures/documents/student-conduct-code.pdf>.

3. Program Learning Outcomes

The Program Learning Outcomes of the Hospitality Management Program are posted in each of the HMC classrooms.

Certain field trips will require that you be in your Chef's uniform. Other field trips will require that you dress in professional business attire. This would include but is not limited to MEN - dress shirt, dress pants and tie, WOMEN - Business attire: dress pants, dress shirt or blouses.

Appropriate attire will be required to participate in any event. The instructor will inform the class when the field trip is scheduled and what attire is expected.

5. Student Code of Conduct

The College acknowledges the importance of an environment that is conducive to learning. The Student Conduct Code and Judicial System serves to provide such an atmosphere that is conducive to education growth and civility which fosters and protects the mission of the College. College Procedures on Student Conduct: Student Conduct Code and Student Judicial System , and Student Judicial System.

The Associate Dean of Hospitality and all faculty members expect that each student will be disciplined and respectful both to the instructor and to their fellow students. Therefore, disruptive talking, speaking out of turn and use of inappropriate language or disrespect will not be tolerated. Students exhibiting this type of behavior will be asked to leave the classroom. The instructor will notify the Associate Dean and file an appropriate formal complaint to Student Affairs who will investigate and determine appropriate action.

College procedure for the student complaint process can be found at: <https://www.tri-c.edu/policies-and-procedures/documents/3354-1-30-03-4-procedure-on-student-complaints.pdf>.

Office Courtesy: Please remember that the office area is a working environment. Phone calls come into the office from many sources including hospitality professionals. Faculty and staff work to ensure that the program runs smoothly. While we all appreciate a friendly hello, please remember to keep your voices to a moderate level. Faculty offices are small and therefore doors are often open; it is both rude and embarrassing when on a phone call to have to stop and ask office visitors to lower their voices. If visiting a faculty member's or administrator's office and the door is closed, knock once. If no one answers come back in a few minutes or wait in a common area for that person to finish what they are doing. DO NOT continue to knock.

The Hospitality Management Center often hosts events for College departments, as well as community members and organizations. If an event is present in the Center, please be respectful to our guests.

Field Trips:

You will be required to fill out a form prior to the date of the planned field trip. The instructor will distribute the form. Your instructor will maintain a copy for his/her files and the original form will go to the Office of Student Life.

Be Prepared to make the most of all field trips. Come with questions, worksheets, or any other required items. You can only make the best use of that time by coming prepared and ready to participate.

Be respectful. The presenters/providers are giving of their valuable time to contribute to your educational pursuit. You will encounter individuals with varying philosophies and management styles. Keep an open mind and respect their right to have these ideas.

6. Health and Physical Requirements

Upon successful completion of HOSP 1020: Sanitation and Safety, student will receive certification in ServSafe, a nationally and industry recognized certificate. Passing of this course/certification is required before students can proceed with the program.

Section IV – Academic Requirements and Progression

1. Degree Requirements

A list of degrees, program certificates, and degree requirements for the Hospitality Management Program are listed on the College website at: <https://www.tri-c.edu/programs/hospitality-management/index.html>.

Prerequisites: Some courses require that specific courses be completed prior to enrolling. It is the student's responsibility to complete prerequisites before enrolling in a specific course. PREREQUISITES ARE VERIFIED BY THE COLLEGE SYSTEM AT THE TIME OF REGISTRATION. If you are unsure that you have completed prerequisites, you should meet with your hospitality faculty mentor or hospitality staff PRIOR to registering for that course.

You should be meeting with your hospitality faculty mentor every semester PRIOR to registering. You are assigned a faculty mentor who will guide you through your academic plan and help ensure that you are on track to graduate and meet your goals in the shortest, most effective time possible.

Course Waivers: Please note that all course waivers must be reviewed and approved by the Associate Dean of Hospitality Management.

Graduation: Graduating and granting of a degree is not automatic. You must submit a petition to graduate. When you are ready to graduate, it is recommended that you meet with an academic mentor to review graduation status and submit a "Petition to Graduate" form which can be found on My Tri-C Space on the Student tab.

Students completing a certificate program must also file a "Petition to Graduate" form. The same procedure is followed as for the degree. All Hospitality Management students who have completed an associate degree will also be awarded at least one certificate. For clarification on this, contact your faculty mentor or hospitality staff.

To graduate on time, a petition requires submission by the appropriate date available on the academic calendar also available on the College website. A college-wide commencement occurs every fall in December and every spring in May.

2. Attendance

Students are expected to adhere to established College, program and course attendance guidelines: Student Rights and Responsibilities - Attendance

Attendance guidelines are outlined in individual instructor course syllabi.

3. Absence Policy

Absence policy is outlined in individual instructor course syllabi.

4. Illness/COVID-19

The Ohio Food Safety policy, which includes a list of diseases that are transmissible through food, can be found on the following link: <http://codes.ohio.gov/oac/3717-1-02.1>. Students exhibiting any of these symptoms should not come to class. All illnesses should be reported immediately to your instructor.

It is a requirement of the program that an “Employee Health Policy Agreement” form be completed by all Hospitality students in kitchen lab courses and a “FERPA Authorization to Release/Disclose Contagious/Infectious Illness Information” form be completed by all Hospitality students. |

Students should report an infectious disease, transmissible from person to person or by direct contact with an affected individual or the individual's discharges, or by indirect means. The Ohio Administrative Code (OAC) provides guidance through the Communicable Disease Rules:

https://odh.ohio.gov/wps/wcm/connect/gov/84ffece4-16f1-4602-9b93-7ce4eeb34680/section-1-reporting.pdf?MOD=AJPERES&CONVERT_TO=url&CACHEID=ROOTWORKSPACE.Z18_M1HGGIK0N0JO00QO9DDDDM3000-84ffece4-16f1-4602-9b93-7ce4eeb34680-mtn9-.6.

The Ohio Administrative Code (OAC) provides guidance through the Communicable Disease Rule. Diseases to report: <http://codes.ohio.gov/oac/3701-3-02v1>.

For a student who is infected with one of these illnesses and, if the illness occurs on campus, please use the Cuyahoga Community College Student Incident Report Form on Appendix II as well as immediately reporting the illness to the Program Director or Manager.

COVID-19 - The College is taking many precautions to provide a safe, healthy environment for students, faculty and staff. Visit www.tri-c.edu/coronavirus for up-to-date information on protocols.

5. Scheduling

To maximize effectiveness and expedite completion, courses should be taken in the order as outlined on the Program Sequence sections located on the Hospitality Management website (<https://www.tri-c.edu/programs/hospitality-management/index.html>).

It is important that you follow the sequence as outlined in the Program Sequence guidelines. Taking courses out of order could lead to delays in graduation. You should meet with your hospitality faculty mentor every semester PRIOR to registering to guide you through your academic plan and help ensure that you stay on track to graduate and meet your goals in the shortest, most effective time possible.

Section V – Academic Status

The College procedure on Academic Status explains the college’s academic probation and dismissal process, including the GPA requirements for each level of credit hours attempted. Good Academic Standing, Dean’s List status, probation and dismissal are explained by opening the underlined links: College Procedure on Academic Status. The Standards of Academic Progress information provides details on how financial aid is impacted based on grade point average and progress toward degree completion: Satisfactory Academic Progress. Federal regulations require that students make measurable progress towards completion of their course of study in order to continue to remain eligible for federal aid. The College reviews the academic progress of all students and notifies students receiving federal financial aid each semester of their status.

1. Grading

The link to the Procedure on Grading explains the grades and awarding of credits, auditing of courses and pass/no pass use. At the program level, there are grading scales and/or rubrics that faculty provide to guide students on course grading.

Grading is always a subject of discussion and sometimes an area of misunderstanding between students and faculty. Each instructor selects the grading scale and criteria best suited to the individual course they teach. Faculty, administration, and industry mentor committee members review grading criteria for all courses. Students are welcome to make suggestions on improving the grading for an individual course. However, they must understand if approved, it may not appear until a future semester.

It is important for students to understand what grades reflect and what they do not reflect.

- Grades reflect your level of demonstrated proficiency as it relates to your understanding, retention, and interpretation of lecture materials, classroom discussions, reading materials, video assignments, internet assignments, guest speaker presentations, and field trip experiences within an individual course.
- Grades reflect your demonstrated ability to follow instructions, procedures, and standards of operations.
- Grades reflect your demonstrated ability to communicate effectively both verbally and with written correspondence.
- Grades reflect your demonstrated ability to relate past knowledge and experiences to current course work.
- Grades reflect your demonstrated growth in gaining new skill and knowledge while sharpening the knowledge and skills already obtained.

Grades do not judge you as a person, determine your success or failure in life or your career, measure you against other students, or measure your ability. Grades measure what you do in relationship to course expectations. Grading is also a method of evaluating proficiencies to determine areas that may be below industry expectation.

Grade Dispute Policy can be found at <https://www.tri-c.edu/policies-and-procedures/documents/procedure-on-student-complaint-and-grade-dispute.pdf>.

Course Syllabus

In the course of your college career, you will encounter instructors with different teaching styles and who may require different objectives from their students. The course syllabus is the framework for your classes. Instructor expectations of students, as well as what students can expect from the instructor is in the syllabus. It includes grading and requirements to earn the highest grade possible. A syllabus is a wealth of information and includes, among other things, how to contact your instructor, the class-meeting schedule, dates indicating when the college will be closed, course objectives (what you can expect to learn), and college-wide policies.

Please read your syllabus very carefully to ensure you are aware of all policies, important dates, assignment due dates, and grading criteria. If you have any questions after reviewing your syllabus, schedule an appointment to meet with the specific instructor to discuss your concerns.

2. Grade Point Average (GPA)

While there is no specific GPA requirement to enter the program other than the college-wide policy (see link provided below), Hospitality Management students must be eligible to take English 1010: College Composition I as well as a Math 1000 level course.

Students must also pass the Hospitality 1020: Sanitation & Safety course, which requires passing the ServSafe certification test in order to progress in courses/labs in the kitchen.

College GPA Policy: <https://www.tri-c.edu/policies-and-procedures/documents/3354-1-30-03-3-procedure-on-academic-status.pdf>

3. Program Withdrawal, Probation, Dismissal, and Reinstatement

When considering withdrawing from a course, students should make an appointment to speak with the Associate Dean to discuss potential consequences that may result from such action.

Students should be also be mindful of the Course Withdrawal Dates. Depending on the date of withdrawal a student may forfeit refund and/or risk the possibility of receiving a failing grade. If a student encounters any extenuating issues that prevent the completion of a course or program, the student will need to follow withdrawal instructions from the program administrators. The academic calendar, which includes course withdrawal dates, can be found on My Tri-C Space on the Registration tab under the heading Important Dates and Deadlines.

The College Procedure on Academic Status explains the college's academic probation and dismissal process including the GPA requirements for each level of credit hours attempted.

4. Due Process

Students in violation of a standard or academic requirement will go through due process before removal per college policy.

The Tri-C Hospitality Management Center of Excellence is recognized nationwide for its high quality of educational program.

Tri-C Hospitality Management is one of only a few schools in the area which is accredited by the American Culinary Federation for its Culinary Arts program. This honor permits our students to graduate from a distinguished program with nationally recognized certification.

Culinary Arts majors are automatically enrolled in the Cleveland Chapter of the American Culinary Federation (ACF) with a Student Culinarian Membership. This membership applies to a student or apprentice with less than two years full-time employment, a student enrolled in an accredited postsecondary culinary education program, or a registered apprentice as defined by the ACF apprenticeship training program. A student membership is subject to a limit of four years. See the benefits of membership at www.acfchefs.org.

The Hospitality Management Degree program in Hotel, Destination and Event Management is accredited by the nationally recognized Accreditation Commission for Programs in Hospitality Administration (ACPHA) (<http://www.acpha-cahm.org/>).

Student Information

The Hospitality Management Experience offers a combination of a supervised on-site management experience in the student's area of specialization and a series of seminars and one-on-one meetings to prepare students for professional success after graduation. For most, this course is taken during their last semester and is required to graduate. Be sure to meet with the professor early and follow instructions to ensure success.

IMPORTANT NOTE: There is more required of this course than simply going to work and tracking the hours. Please read this guide carefully to understand all requirements.

After registering for this course, immediately make an appointment to meet with the course instructor.

YOU MUST MEET WITH THE COURSE INSTRUCTOR DURING THE FIRST TWO WEEKS OF THE SEMESTER.

Please find the instructor's office hours and make an appointment to meet with him/her at your earliest convenience. Be aware that you will need to meet with the course instructor periodically throughout the term, so be sure there is a day/time you can meet with the instructor during their office hours. When you meet with the instructor, you will receive a syllabus and all requirements of the course will be discussed and any questions addressed. If you do not meet with the instructor in the first two weeks of the term and other arrangements are not made, you may be administratively withdrawn from the class.

HOW TO REGISTER

Step I: Obtain departmental approval of your chosen worksite from your faculty mentor

Step V: Make an appointment with the course instructor within the first two weeks of class.

Step VI: Discuss and set goals with Site Supervisor (see Goal Setting below)

Prerequisite Coursework

Students must have successfully completed the following courses before the start of the semester in which they plan to take HOSP 2862 or 2871

- HOSP 1950 or 1960, Hospitality Practicum and Seminar
- HOSP 2400, Hospitality Management and Supervision

Work Site Selection and Approval

While this is a management experience, you do not have to work in a management position to be eligible for the course. We do ask that your employer be willing to work with you on your career development and improving your management potential.

Your Worksite Supervisor will be asked to set goals with the student and assist them in achieving those goals. Additionally, a Site Visit will be conducted at some point during the term. It is necessary that someone from the department visit the student at their worksite to observe their work and meet with their supervisor to thank them for their participation and to discuss the student's progress.

Consider the following when selecting a worksite:

- Your degree/major
- Your previous work experience
- Your personal career goals
- Current employment conditions relative to personal career goals

Please note that it is not your faculty mentor's responsibility to find a worksite for you. He or she may give you guidance, suggestions, and/or possible contact names, but it is your responsibility to secure the worksite.

OVERALL REQUIREMENTS

TIME LOG

210 Hours Required

A sample 'Time Log' is included in your information packet, but any time log will do as long as it includes:

- Specific dates and hours worked
- 210 Hours
- Signed and verified by a supervisor including their name and a phone number

SEMINARS

You will be required to attend THREE career development related seminars or workshops during the semester. These seminars and workshops are offered through the Counseling and Career Services departments throughout the semester on all campuses at various days and times. Information about these workshops and seminars can be found on your My Tri-C Space under the Student Services tab. These seminars will be discussed in detail on your first meeting with the course instructor.

GOALS

Early in the semester meet with your workplace supervisor and discuss and set FIVE goals that you will work toward during the course of this semester. Before you meet with your supervisor, take some time to consider goals that you would consider appropriate: things that you would like to learn, skills you need to develop, etc. For example, if you have always wanted to know how inventory and ordering are done, set a goal with your supervisor to assist with inventory and ordering throughout the term. Additionally, ask your supervisor for advice about skills that they feel you could develop and set goals accordingly.

Goals should primarily revolve around career development, self-improvement, taking on additional responsibility, and learning new skills. Appropriate goals would include learning a new station, skill or position, shadowing a manager for various shifts, assisting with a special event or project, and taking on additional management or supervisory assignments.

For each goal, you must create a plan for achieving it and present it to your course instructor early in the term for discussion and approval. At the end of the term, you will submit your written goals with an explanation of how they were (or were not) achieved and your evaluation of your efforts.

RESUME

Meet with the course instructor at least twice during the semester to ensure that your resume is ready for you to graduate as well.

PARTICIPATION IN COMMUNITY/TRI-C EVENT

During the semester you will be asked to participate in a community or Tri-C related event. At this event you will be asked to 'manage' some portion of it. Generally, in the fall we will participate in the Taste of the NFL event and in the spring, it will be the Market at the Foodbank event – both support the Cleveland Foodbank. Please meet with course instructor to discuss and plan for these events.

PORTFOLIO

As you start the program, we ask that you take the time to organize assignments, awards, certifications or whatever you have done that is worth hanging on to. It is a chance for you to go through all of your 'college stuff' and determine what it is worth keeping and preserving it in a safe place.

SITE VISIT

You will need to schedule a day and time with the course instructor to visit you at your place of work. You do not have to be 'on the clock' for the visit, but you must be able to demonstrate your normal working day for the instructor. Additionally, the instructor will need to meet with your supervisor to thank them for their participation and discuss the progress and performance of the student. |

3. Service Requirements

The Hospitality Management Department is involved in many community activities. There are many diverse volunteer opportunities for students to participate with department faculty in real life events. The learning goes well beyond what is capable in the classroom. Students who consistently volunteer and are engaged with what's happening in the department are typically more successful in the industry.

Many former students have been offered jobs while volunteering with chefs in Cleveland. Our students have the pleasure to work with their professors outside the classroom and have worked side by side with Michael Symon, Bobby Flay and Mario Batali – just to name a few!

4. Performance Expectations

In addition to these dates, the College will close for Thanksgiving Recess and Winter Break. No credit courses will be offered on campus during Spring Break.

Please be aware that college recognized holidays are NOT applicable to your field experience work site schedule. As such, you may be scheduled and required to report to work during a college recognized holiday.
