

Emily Thome is vice president of the Third Federal Foundation, where she helps manage the organization's operations and overall grantmaking strategy.

Before joining the foundation two years ago, Thome spent 15 years in fundraising, including roles as campaign manager and senior director of development at the Cleveland Orchestra, senior director of development at Cleveland Clinic, and vice president of development at Planned Parenthood of Northeast Ohio.

Earlier in her career, Thome served as a health educator running programs related to sexual health, HIV prevention and sexual assault prevention.
