

Kolman Rosenberg is a freelance editorial, documentary and fine art photographer who resides and works in Mentor, OH. He has a photojournalistic style which began during his college years where he shot for the college paper and yearbook. Kolman has been working as a part-time and fulltime photographer for more than 40 years. He has won many awards for his photography and has had his work published in a number of books, magazines and on TV where he was named an Associate Producer by ESPN for his still photo work on their Emmy Award nominated feature "Carry On," broadcast on their Outside the Lines program.