The First Amendment: Free Speech

The First Amendment issue of free speech could not be more important. Being able to speak out for a candidate or cause or to speak against that same issue or candidate is the bedrock of American democracy. We will look at why the founding fathers thought this was important enough to make it part of the First Amendment and will examine landmark U.S. Supreme Court cases that define our freedom of speech. Our history has led us to the present conflict between this freedom and our respect for our country and our flag. Can there be both?
