Question 1

Reflecting on our Vision: Consider the context and vision casting message you just heard, what resonated with you the most? What challenges do you see?

Summary

The responses emphasize the urgent need for change in higher education to adapt to evolving workforce demands, technological advancements, and shifting demographics.

Key challenges include connecting with diverse learners, addressing generational relevance, ensuring programs lead to sustainable careers, bridging technology gaps, and maintaining community trust. The importance of strategic planning, cultural competency, and collaboration with employers and community partners is highlighted. The institution must be agile, innovative, and responsive to external factors such as political climate and funding uncertainties.

Overall, a commitment to transformation and alignment with community needs is essential for future success.

Responses

Adapting Higher Education Landscape

As an institution and individual we must quickly adapt to the changing landscape of higher education and prepare ourselves for continual change. Challenges like continual change, new technologies, and a changing student body will need to be addressed.

Change is inevitable and we have to figure things out now in order to progress and transform how we serve our students and community,

Higher education is changing and we must change to keep up and thrive

Higher Education needs to change

That the College has the opportunity to define our own direction and not have it defined for us.

The institution is challenged by the fact that the American dream (Work hard, afford a living) is no longer a realizable reality for more and more people. How can we change society to make the dream obtainable again

The need to be agile to meet current need and address perceptions of higher education

The need to be responsive to change and agile as an institution of higher learning

This does not suggest there is any deficit in talent, desire or ability on the part of the College Community. It speaks to the difficulty to move the entire College as necessary to meet the needs of the changing environment.

What I heard is that education MUST change and we are at a point that we can no longer wait

Will the College have the flexibility to adjust and innovate for the changing environment while managing institutional constraints.

Adapting to Change Challenges

Acceptance of change and ability of planning for the future and adapt to those changes

Are we truly flexible and willing to move to make change happen based on what is ahead of

Challenge - keeping up with accelerating change

Challenge, to get senior level leaders to understand the shift of how we need to be innovative

Challenges: Change Fatigue Lack of clear direction

Evolving technology including AI

Listening Session Summary

Adapt now or be willing to be left behind

Adapt Now or Risk being left behind.

adapt to future trends

Adapting to changes related to artificial intelligence.

Being left behind if we don't adapt

Staying ahead of trends

AI and External Challenges

AI (Challenge)

challenge one another

Challenge ourselves to be the best version of ourselves

Challenge: External forces that threaten to tear us apart

how can we motivate people to move out of their comfort zones?

We need to challenge each other.

Career-Oriented Training Programs

Career Relevant

credit /non credit programming

Emphasis on workforce skills and trades

Enrollment being flat - how do we ensure we have the programs students want/need

ensuring programs connect to careers/relevance

How well do we leverage feeder programs to full time students making sure our programs are relevant and have a direct link to employment and careers

Provide students with training that lead to family sustaining wages provide training that provides good paying jobs providing advancement

role of non-credit programming

The vision to provide degrees and certificates that lead to family sustaining wages resonates with me. The challenge is to understand how we frame all academic programs in a way that lead to these types of jobs.

Change Management Challenges

change can be difficult in a large organization

Change is a must

Change is coming

Change is Constant

Change is important!

Culture shift

Human nature is resistant to change

Only 20% of millennials believe college is working for them

Community Bridge Building

Building bridges

Building bridges is key building the future along with the community

Community Building Bridges toward Each Other.

The building bridges messages resonated with me most. I am concerned with the legacy structural norms that are out of step with the new changes.

We as a community build bridges towards one another - this is not a Zero Sum initiative

Community Building Initiatives

Being Better to Each other

Resonated: community sticks together. If we reach out to the community, the community will reach out to us.

TriC was founded by the community coming together. TriC is not just for the wealthy, it is for everyone

Stick Together

Stick together as a community

We are a community
