

George Fields joined the Greater Cleveland Regional Transit Authority (GCRTA) in 2003 as manager of employment and recruitment. In April 2020, he was named deputy general manager of GCRTA's human resources division.

Fields has more than 25 years of experience in human resources, holding progressively responsible human resource leadership positions with organizations in the areas of public transportation, health care, biotechnology, executive recruitment and vocational education.

He holds Senior Professional in Human Resources certification through the Human Resources Certification Institute and Senior Certified Professional certification through the Society for Human Resource Management.