

Sarah Baldwin

Recruitment Specialist, Workforce Partnerships

Sarah Baldwin has been working at community colleges since 2008 and truly enjoys serving people and helping them improve their lives. She currently works as a recruitment specialist in the Tri-C Workforce Innovation division, where she does presentations, events and works one-on-one with students to assist them with their educational journeys. In her free time, she enjoys her rescue dog, Petey, flower, vegetable and fruit gardening, thrifting for vintage treasures, various creative pursuits and having a good laugh with her friends.

Speech Topics:

- Overview of Tri-C Workforce Innovation Programs – General overview of the Tri-C Workforce Innovation division programs, enrollment, financial aid and more. If you're interested in hitting the open road and getting your CDL, helping your neighbors as a community health worker or changing your career via a fast-track IT bootcamp, this presentation is for you!
- Change Your Life in a Year – A presentation all about Tri-C's fast track Workforce Innovation trainings that you can complete in a year or less!
- The Importance of Etiquette – This presentation covers basic etiquette and how to set yourself apart from the rest just by having good manners.