

Beth Johnson, M.P.A.
Career Specialist, Career Services

Beth Johnson is the Career Specialist at Tri-C's Eastern campus and brings 13+ years of experience in government, nonprofit, and higher education. After graduating with a Bachelor of Art in Political Science from Kent State University, she worked for USDA's Foreign Agricultural Service where she traveled to developing countries to conduct Food Safety workshops. This work ignited her desire to leave overseas and be the "boots on the ground" in the nonprofit field. She moved to Guatemala where she volunteered at a local orphanage and served as Director of Development for a small nonprofit that created export markets for local coffee farmers. After 3 years overseas, she returned to northeast Ohio where she completed an AmeriCorps year of service with the International Institute of Akron recruiting, training, and retaining interns and volunteers. Working with students in this capacity landed her a Program Manager position with Walsh University's Career Center.
