

JaNice Marshall, Ed.D.

Vice President, College Pathway Programs

Dr. JaNice Marshall has served as Vice President, College Pathway Programs at Cuyahoga Community College (Tri-C®) since 2012. She is a skillful, resourceful, highly driven, and exceptionally motivated professional with multifaceted skills in P-16 academic leadership and program design, as well as career and life development. With more than 25 years expertise creating, leading and managing secondary and postsecondary innovative programs, she is committed to helping students plan for and experience enhanced success in both school and life.

Dr. Marshall is a graduate of the Community College Leadership Program at The University of Texas at Austin. While completing her doctoral studies, Dr. Marshall worked with the Center for Community College Student Engagement (CCCSE) on several projects including the Center's work on Men of Color. The research on the issues and opportunities for minority men in community colleges led to her dissertation focus on the evidence of effectiveness of minority male student success programs throughout our nation. During her graduate work at UT Austin, Dr. Marshall was the recipient of numerous scholarships, including the John and Suanne Roueche Award and the American Association for Community Colleges (AACC) National Council on Black American Affairs (NCBAA) Breaking the Stained Glass Window.

Dr. Marshall completed several national professional development programs for emerging leaders prior to her enrollment in the Higher Educational Administration doctoral program. Examples of these leadership programs included a fellowship with the Educational Policy Leadership Program (EPFP-Michigan), AACC Future Leaders Institute, AACC NCBAA Mid-Level Manager's Leadership Institute, and Kaleidoscope Leadership Institute for minority women. She holds a Ed.D. from the University of Texas at Austin, and both Master of Arts in Rehabilitation Counseling and Bachelor of Arts in Special Education/Elementary Education from Michigan State University in East Lansing, Michigan.

Speech Topics:

- K-16 Partnerships – what matters and why?
- Why planning matters – Life, education and career planning for youth and adults
- Understanding the implications of globalization and educational opportunities in America.
- College credentials – why we must also include workforce education.
- Characteristics of effective programs for youth and adult minority male student success programs
- Mentoring education leaders – when to get started on that advanced degree?
- Faith based partnerships – a necessary community engagement strategy for student access, participation and completion of higher education credentials.