

Cultural Sensitivity

90% of students met our CS ELO

CS measures how well students can demonstrate sensitivity to the beliefs, views, values and practices of cultures within and beyond the United States.

Below are some ways you can use your CS skills:

- Knowing how to include other cultures in activities
- Appreciating different perspectives at work
- Making all patients feel comfortable by interacting with them using their cultural norms

Oral Communication

82% of students met our OC ELO

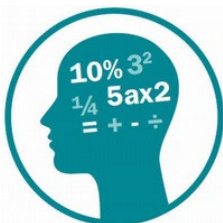

OC measures how students use effective verbal and nonverbal communication for an audience that is clear, organized and delivered effectively following the standard conventions of that language.

Below are some ways you can use your OC skills:

- Explaining a care plan to a patient
- Interviewing for a new job
- Explaining a concept to your boss versus a brand new employee

Quantitative Reasoning

85% of students met our QR ELO

QR measures how well students can analyze problems, including real-world scenarios, through math concepts and skills, such as the interpretation of data, tables, charts or graphs.

Below are some ways you can use your QR skills:

- Making and sticking to a budget
- Calculating the interest on a loan
- Calculating which supplier is giving you the lowest price per ounce
- Billing clients