The appearance of a name in this program is presumptive evidence of graduation and graduation honors, but should not be regarded as conclusive.

The signed and sealed diploma of Cuyahoga Community College remains the official testimony of the possession of the degree.

Student Speaker

Laryssa Maruski

Laryssa Maruski is an international student from Brazil studying marketing and international business. She was the Western Campus 2021-2022 Student of the Year. Last summer, Maruski completed an internship with the Tri-C Foundation and has worked as an intern for the Western Student Engagement office since October.

Maruski chose Tri-C for its affordable, high-quality education and many resources and programs. The scholarships she received have allowed her to focus solely on her studies instead of worrying about tuition.

After graduating from the College, Maruski is transferring to Cleveland State University to pursue a bachelor's degree with a full scholarship through the Jack, Joseph and Morton Mandel Continuing Scholars program. She also received the Dr. Jerry Sue Thornton Endowed Scholarship Fund and the Hispanic Council Scholarship.

Through the Jack, Joseph and Morton Mandel Scholars Academy, Maruski has developed her leadership skills, gotten involved in the community and built strong relationships with her peers. She is currently the president of the Western Campus Student Government and the Joint Student Council. She knows both of these roles will help her succeed in life after Tri-C.

Commencement History

Academic Regalia

Traditional academic regalia originated in 12th-century England with the robes worn by the monks who administered Oxford University. In the United States, the use of academic regalia dates to 1754 and the founding of Columbia University. The standards for academic regalia styles and colors were established in 1895 and are maintained by a commission of college and university officials.

As seen today, regalia typically consists of three items: the robe, the mortarboard and the hood. The robe is usually black, although institutions may sanction the use of other colors. The style of the robe changes for associate, baccalaureate, master's and doctoral degrees. The width and style of the sleeve and the length of the hood increase with each advanced degree. The mortarboard is adorned with a tassel: black for those who have earned an associate, bachelor's or master's degree, and gold for those who have earned a doctorate or are governing officers of an educational institution. In the hood, the color of the velvet border identifies the academic field in which the degree was earned, and the colors of the lining are the official colors of the institution that granted the degree.

Students who have achieved academic honors wear a gold honors cord. The honors cord indicates that the graduate has a cumulative grade point average of 3.5 or greater. U.S. military veterans wear a red, white and blue medallion.

Phi Theta Kappa, founded in 1918, is recognized as the official honor society for community colleges by the American Association of Community Colleges. Members of Phi Theta Kappa may wear the society's honor stole, made of gold satin and embroidered with the society's Greek letters and seal.

The Legend of the Stole of Gratitude

Every graduate has had a special person who, through moral or financial support, made a big difference in his or her life. The Stole of Gratitude offers an opportunity to say "Thanks for making it possible for me to succeed!"

After the ceremony, the new graduate presents the Stole of Gratitude to someone who provided extraordinary support or who has helped with wisdom, words of encouragement or financial assistance.

Immediately after graduation, the graduate may take the stole from around their neck and place it around the neck of the recipient. If more than one stole is worn during commencement, they symbolize multiple persons who will receive Stoles of Gratitude.

Presenters often write a few words of love and appreciation on the back of the stole using a permanent, fine-tipped marker. Friends and family of the graduate may autograph the front or back. The Stole of Gratitude is a lasting symbol of love, appreciation and academic accomplishment.
