Cleveland Museum of Art – Winter 2027

CMA Up Close – Materials and Processes

This course will offer insights into the materials and processes that artists use in making art, as well as the methods museum professionals use to conserve and exhibit them. Hear perspectives from conservators, preparators, curators, and educators on the materials, making, care, and display of art. Individual session topics include: the work of Juste-Aurèle Meissonnier (French, born Italy, 1695–1750) – one the most revolutionary forerunner of the Rococo style in the decorative arts and considered a genius goldsmith by his contemporaries; the development of printing in China from the 1600s to the international modern woodcut movement in the early 1900s; a special on exhibition on Malagasy textiles, Stunning Patterns: Woven Textiles from Madagascar's Merina Kingdom, which weaves a dynamic story of royalty, resistance, reinvention, and resilience as told through the history of eastern African silk weaving; and discussion of other parts of the museum's permanent collection and rotating exhibitions.

All sessions are held at the Cleveland Museum of Art. This on-site course involves walking through the museum galleries and may also include slide presentations in our lecture hall, as well as viewing objects from our Education Art Collection in a classroom space. Assistive Listening Devices are available for use in the museum.

Cleveland Museum of Art – Spring 2027

CMA Up Close – Artists and Expression

This course will explore the many ways in which artists explore the world around them, experiment with materials and techniques, and create new modes of expression. Session topics will include Painting the French Riviera, which explores the rise and development of modern art on the Mediterranean coast of France from the 1870s to the 1960s, in which artists translated the experience of the South of France into their work and reached new heights of modernist experimentation; the work of artists who explored printmaking techniques and Surrealism at Atelier 17 starting in the early 1920s; as well as various artistic explorations across the museum's exhibitions and permanent collection.

All sessions are held at the Cleveland Museum of Art. This on-site course involves walking through the museum galleries and may also include slide presentations in our lecture hall, as well as viewing objects from our Education Art Collection in a classroom space. Assistive Listening Devices are available for use in the museum.
