Desktop Recording Best Practices

- Do not wait until the last minute!
- Look at the camera. Do not have your back to the camera.
- Put the camera even with your face so you are not looking down or up at it, nor pointing it to the ceiling or the floor.
- Sit up or stand. Do not lay down or lay back on the couch.
- Speak up.
- Remove distractions like animals, music, television, siblings, children, gum, construction sounds, etc.
- Find a nice quiet place to concentrate and “perform” your speech.

- Do not sit with a window or a lamp to your back, instead face the window to light your face or try using a lamp to light your face.
- Be sure to make frequent eye contact with the camera.
- Wear plain clothes that do not include distracting patterns or logos.
- Check your audio and camera set up by doing a quick test recording with the application and playing it back before performing your speech.
- If you are recording with other software, do a test recording to check your audio and camera set up and use your test recording to test the upload process to Mediasite so you can reach out for help if something does not go as planned.
