

JACK, JOSEPH AND MORTON MANDEL YOUTH HUMANITIES ACADEMY

The Mandel Youth Humanities Academy (MYHA)

BENEFITS

Financial Support

Upon the completion of program requirements, every Youth Humanities Academy Scholar receives a stipend of $3,150.

Technology

Receive a laptop to use the program content. At the end it's yours to keep.

Transportation and Meals

Receive transportation help and meals during the program.

Unique Academic Experience

Engage in an interdisciplinary curriculum in the humanities, with seminars from Tri-C faculty and Cleveland-area scholars, sustained dialogue sessions on contemporary social issues, and explorations of new places and experiences in virtual reality.

Co-Curricular Opportunities

Attend a series of "Public Humanities" activities around Cleveland that enhance the classroom experience by linking our discussion of the humanities to social practice and civic engagement.

MYHA Review

Develop writing skills by composing a digital humanities blog on experiences, intellectual engagements, and discussions. The teaching team will select the best blogs to publish the MYHA Review, the program's journal.

Mentoring

Learn from the alumni of the Mandel Scholars Academy. Near-peer mentoring provides college guidance to participants.

College Pathway

Explore college opportunities, including the Mandel Humanities Center's flagship program, the Jack, Joseph and Morton Mandel Scholars Academy.
