

JACK, JOSEPH AND MORTON MANDEL YOUTH HUMANITIES ACADEMY

FAQs

What are the minimum qualifications to apply?

Interested students must be rising high school juniors or seniors in Northeast Ohio.

When does the program run?

The program runs for nine weeks from June to August. There is a program break for the week of July 4.

How often does the program meet?

The program meets Monday through Thursday from 10 a.m. – 3 p.m.

Where does the program meet?

The program meets at the Jack, Joseph and Morton Mandel Humanities Center at Tri-C's Eastern Campus, 4250 Richmond Road, Highland Hills 44122.

How and where do I apply?

Interested students must complete a background application and answer a short essay prompt. The application form can be found at tri-c.edu/yha.

What is a typical week of the program like?

While each week varies depending on the topic and discipline, the weekly program sequence includes participating in discussion-based tutorials and seminars, experimental play in new media forms and explorations of Cleveland through unique "City as Text" experiences with scholars and community partners.

How much money do participants make during the summer?

After completing the program requirements, students receive $3,150, paid in two installments.

What are the program requirements?

Students must write two cohesive and publishable blogs and complete a small group project. See the examples in the MYHA Review.

Does the program provide food?

Yes, the program provides daily snacks, drinks and lunches.

What other opportunities does the program provide?

Program participants also receive unique opportunities during the academic year, including performances at Playhouse Square, discussions with acclaimed humanities scholars from Northeast Ohio and around the country and other public events sponsored by the Mandel Humanities Center and its community partners. Select alumni are also offered a unique yearlong, paid fellowship.

QUESTIONS? CONTACT:

David Busch, Ph.D.

david.busch@tri-c.edu | 216-987-2602 | Visit tri-c.edu/yha