

Quentin L. McCorvey Sr.
Principal
Nirvana Analytics

Quentin McCorvey is an administrator, strategist, and community leader with wide range of experiences in governmental, healthcare, and nonprofit sectors. He has developed a strong record in communications and community affairs, strategic planning, relationship management, budgeting, program and policy development and analysis. Quentin earned a BA in Political Science from Jackson State University (Jackson, MS) in May 1990. He later earned a Masters Degree in Public Administration Program (Public Management) from Cleveland State University in June 1997.

In his role as Principal of Nirvana Analytics, he leads Nirvana Capital Management. Quentin is also responsible for managing the operations and business development functions of Nirvana Analytics and serves as a public sector specialist. Prior to this, Quentin was formerly President of M&R Distribution services where he was responsible for directing all aspects of the company's day to day operations. Previous to this, he served at the Senior Vice President of Corporate Diversity Strategies and Programs and Vice President of Civic Affairs and the Key Foundation with KeyBank.

Quentin is a graduate of the leadership classes of Leadership Ohio, the United Way Leadership Development Program and Cleveland Bridge Builders, where he was one of the organizations founding members. Quentin was inducted into the Crain's Cleveland Business Magazine 40 under 40 Club and Kaleidoscope Magazine's Forty/Forty Club. In the civic space, he has served on Nominating Panel for the Cleveland Municipal School District school board and was chosen by the Governor of Ohio to serve as a member of his Judicial Advisory Panel. His current civic involvement includes being Board Chairman of Ohio Means Jobs, Cleveland/Cuyahoga County and the Cuyahoga Community College Board of Visitors. He is also a director of Cleveland Development Advisors at the Greater Cleveland Partnership. Quentin has been both a board member and a member of the committee on trustees at WCPN/WVIZ ideastream (NPR and National Public TV affiliate). Additionally, he has served in board leadership roles with the Cleveland Leadership Center, President of The First Tee of Akron, President of Suite 1300 of the Cleveland Foundation, Knoxville College board of trustees and a member of the Cleveland State University Athletic Visiting Committee.

Quentin is a member of Phi Beta Sigma Fraternity Inc., and is an ordained deacon at Providence Baptist Church in Cleveland, Ohio.

Quentin is married to Kelli and they have two boys, Quentin