Answer:

Based on the language of the affirmation and disclosure, utilizing non-US based consultants and sub-contractors will disqualify the proposer from the contract.

Question:

Based on the first paragraph of the standard "PROPOSER AFFIRMATION AND DISCLOSURE" and specifically the sentence: "both the Proposer and its Consultants and Subcontractors (as applicable) shall perform no services requested under the Contract outside of the United States," will it be a concern or a basis for disqualification if one or more of our consultants are based in a different country?
